A BILL

To direct the Secretary of Veterans Affairs to carry out a study to evaluate the effectiveness of programs, especially in regards to women veterans and minority veterans, in transitioning to civilian life, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Improving Transition
5 Programs for All Veterans Act”.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7 Congress finds the following:

1           (1) The rate of unemployment for women vet-
2           erans is higher than the rate for male veterans. In 3           2015, the unemployment rate for women veterans
4           remained relatively unchanged at 5.4 percent, while 5           the rate for male veterans declined to 4.5 percent.

6           (2) Women veterans, on average, earn less than 7           male veterans. In 2013, the median income for 8           women veterans was $35,264, while the median in-9           come for male veterans was $41,310.

10          (3) Women veterans and veterans with disabil-
11          ities are more likely to become homeless.

12          (4) Service-connected disabled veterans with rel-
13          atively high disability ratings have a higher unem-
14          ployment rate than those with relatively low dis-
15          ability ratings. In 2015, the unemployment rate for 16          veterans with a service-connected disability rating of 17          60 percent or higher was 9.6 percent, much higher
18          than the 4.0 percent rate for veterans with a service-
19          connected disability rating of 30 percent or lower.

20          (5) In 2013, American Indian and Alaska Na-
21          tive veterans had the lowest median personal in-
22          comes of any group of minority veterans.

23          (6) In 2013, American Indian and Alaska Na-
24          tive veterans were less likely to have finished an ad-
25          vanced degree than other veterans.

1           (7) American Indian and Alaska Native vet-
2           erans were more likely to have a service-connected
3           disability rating compared to all other veterans. In 4           2013, the rate of American Indian and Alaska Na-
5           tive veterans with a service-connected disability rat-
6           ing was about 26 percent compared to 18.2 percent
7           for all other veterans.

8           (8) There is a lack of data on, and an under-
9           standing of, the challenges and needs of veterans
10          who are residents of a territory of the United States
11          and veterans who are part of the indigenous popu-
12          lation of a territory of the United States.

13 SEC. 3. STUDY ON THE EFFECTIVENESS OF VETERANS
14 TRANSITION EFFORTS.

15          (a) STUDY.—The Secretary of Veterans Affairs, in 16          coordination with the Secretaries of Labor and Defense,
17          shall carry out a study to evaluate programs to assist vet-
18          erans of the Armed Forces in their transition to civilian
19          life. Such study shall be designed to determine the effec-20          tiveness of current programs, especially in regards to the 21          unique challenges faced by women veterans and minority
22          veterans including whether such programs—

23                (1) effectively address the challenges veterans
24                face in pursuing higher education, especially the 25                challenge faced by women and minority veterans;

1           (2) effectively address the challenges veterans
2           face entering the civilian workforce and in trans-
3           lating experience and skills from military service to 4           the job market; and

5           (3) effectively address the challenges faced by 6           the families of veterans transitioning to civilian life.

7           (b) REPORT.—Eighteen months after the enactment
8           of this Act, the Secretary of Veterans Affairs shall submit 9           a report to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the 10          Senate and House of Representatives regarding the find-11          ings and recommendations of the study required under 12          subsection (a) of this section.
